

Virginia Polytechnic Institute And State University, Blacksburg, VA. Assistant Professor in the Department of Science and Technology in Society, tenure track. The successful candidate must have a demonstrable background and research agenda in interdisciplinary Science and Technology Studies. We especially encourage applications from candidates who will help us build upon existing connections with other units in the university. See our website (www.sts.vt.edu) for these connections. We are particularly interested in applicants working in bioethics, especially environmental ethics and related areas. The candidate will be expected to teach three semester courses per year, undergraduate and graduate, along with research, advising, and service responsibilities. Evidence of a strong research program and teaching experience required. Salary commensurate with experience. Ph.D. in STS or related field completed by August 2008. Candidates can find information about our programs, faculty, and course descriptions at: www.sts.vt.edu.

Interested candidates should apply online at jobs.vt.edu and refer to posting 070950. As part of your online application please attach a C.V., evidence of teaching ability (use other doc field), and a writing sample (use other doc 2 field). In addition, please send three letters of reference to:

Ellsworth Fuhrman, Chair,
Department of Science and Technology in Society
133 Lane Hall
Virginia Tech
Blacksburg, VA 24061-0247
(540) 231-8966

We will start reviewing applications on November 12, 2007, but will accept applications until the position is filled. Virginia Tech has a strong commitment to the principle of diversity and, in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, veterans, and people with disabilities. Individuals with disabilities desiring accommodation in the application process should notify Ellsworth Fuhrman.